Unthinking People and 4-H Clubs Are Ad Club Topics Wednesday

Ray Brown of First National Bank talks on Banking and the Unthinking people—Judge Edwin C. Smith advocates sponsorship of 4-H Club—Organization to hear Congressman Sterling Cole — Attorney Crane is program chairman.

Duties and obligations of a bank to a community and sponsorship of 4-H Clubs to promote agricultural income for Addison were discussed at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Advertising Club of Addison.

The discussions were preceded by a dinner served in the Eagle Hotel. President Milton H. Crane presided. He announced that Dr. Amos Stiker will be in charge of the next meeting, which will be an evening meeting October 24 in the Episcopal Guild Hall. H. W. Hayward of the Kingan Company will speak on "Meats and Meat Packing."

Meetings Changed

The November 6 meeting was changed to November 8 when the Ad Club members will meet with the Civic Society members to hear Representative W. Sterling Cole. Trooper Lynn H. Wheeler was presented as the guest of Treasurer Harry Mullen.

Andrew W. Knebel reported that the committee to investigate the possibilities of a Community Chest for Addison feels the village is too small and a chest is not feasible here. The report was accepted and the committee of Mr. Knebel, M. G. Hubbs and Harry Mullen was discharged.

Attorney Crane

Attorney Charles Crane, chairman for the program committee, asked a silent prayer for suffering Europeans. He pointed out that the United States Constitution was good enough for 160 years and is good for us now. Mr. Crane called attention to the fact the program would be local.

Ray Brown on Immigration

Ray S. Brown, president of the First National Bank, was the first speaker. He said in part: "When we think of things abroad, it brings us to the sober realization that we have much to be thankful for. There is too much talking and not enough action in our national life. However, we of the banking profession have been hiding our light. We must explain what we have done and are doing". He then drew upon a talk of a Buffalo public relations executive executive for the following:

"Senator Mead introduced a bill to establish government banks for small loan owners. A survey was made and it was discovered that 97 per cent of the loans in established banks were less than $1,000. There have been few refusals to small borrowers except where banks feel they are giving funds away. There has never been a time when we have not had character loans for from $2 up. We have assumed risks beyond prudence in the communities we serve.

Unthinking People

"Thirty-seven per cent of the people interviewed in the survey said they wanted government owned banks. Our survey was not satisfied to let that stand. The same people were interviewed and many had never been in a bank, done business with a bank or knew of banking service. These are the unthinking people of the country, the same per cent who in 1936 elected the President of the United States. It is said that if to the 37 per cent is added another 20, anyone can control the country.

Hi-Lights and Shadows of the Week's News

THE WAR

Heavy bombing was resumed by the Nazis the first of the week after a lull which gave Londoners one night of unbroken rest. Tuesday morning 50 planes penetrated to the center of London to rain missiles and workers caught in the streets fell behind any protection they could find to wait out the attack.

RAF squadrons have kept up daily raids on vital German communication centers and invasion ports along the coast in spite of some soupy weather the past week. The British government recently released a map showing the intensity of raids on strategic German plants and concentrations with data regarding the number of attacks and apparent results. This information was given out to satisfy the populace demanding reprisal raids on civilians that war objectives were more important in this war of attrition. Meanwhile Berlin has been visited by bombers that stayed over five hours in one instance.

Signing of the new Axis pact with Japan a partner has had one quick effect. Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons the first of the week that Britain would reopen the Burma Road to let war supplies through to China. At the same time the British leader warned that as long as Great Britain and the U. S. have their fleets upon the sea apan can hope for no aid from her new allies.

The British Ambassador, Lord Lothian, asserted in Washington this week his government had ordered him to cancel plans to return to Britain because of a crisis in the East is expected soon. He indicated that such a crisis might come through re-opening of the Burma Road.

* * *

Churchill admitted before Parliament that a mistake had been made in sending an expedition to Dakar. "—Some errors, have been made the subject of disciplinary action", he said in describing the incident.

British spokesmen claim that Nazi planes are faltering in their attempt to conquer Britain. It is asserted the Nazis have lost three planes to every one of their enemies shot down. It has been announced that 8,500 Britons have been killed and 13,000 wounded by the bombing attacks on the Island. This war is certainly the first one in history where cibilians have suffered more casualties than soldiers.

The Italian attack on Egypt continues to stall at Barani while the British have been able to reinforce their army. Only action in the last week has been the shelling of the Italian base and supply lines by British ships in the Mediterranean.

And on the basis of the fact that the wind was in the north on September 21 when the equinoxal storms were prevalent some feel that this will be a long, cold winter.

The hottest day of the month was on September 20 when 85 degrees was recorded and the lowest temperature 31 degrees on September 27. A frost was recorded on September 27 and 28.

STRIKE FACTS SHOULD BE WEIGHED

Once again the threat of a milk strike is in the air. Once again farmers are faced with the need for a decision which will eventually affect their pocketbooks, a decision which is really being forced upon them by a group whose interests are diametrically opposed to the interests of the farmer.

For careful analysis of the situation is sure to bring out the fact the proposed strike is not fostered by a wave of indignation from the rank and file of dairymen throughout the state. Instead, every bit of strike sentiment is fanned by the group headed by our old friend Archie Wright who is that strange combination of one part farmer and ninety-nine parts labor organizer. Why are the dairymen of the state considering striking now? Because they are being egged on against their best judgment by a man who hopes to jockey the most independent set of individuals on the face of the earth into a position to extract monthly chunks of their milk checks to carry on his own selfish plans.

On the face of it one cannot help wondering why dairymen should even consider a strike at this particular moment. To be sure they could use a higher price for milk than they are getting—that would be true no matter what the current price. But if we examine the price question closely we find that today the dairyman is actually in a better position than he has been in a long time, for today the price of milk is above the average of prices for the things the farmer buys. In fact, right now, the dairyman is in a better position relative to what he has to sell and what he needs to buy, than he has been for a long time.

That is due in great measure to the successful operation of the federal-state milk marketing order which has raised milk prices well above anything the farmer has received for milk in a long time. Yet, in the face of present, better conditions this agitator Wright is trying to stir up another milk strike — a strike in which the dairymen are almost certain to lose heavily.

Every man who strik will lose in proportion to the amount of milk he with holds from the market, for a striking workman loses only his time, but the striking dairyman loses both his time and the perishable product he has ready for market. He will also run the risk of losing the benefits gained through the marketing order, for that order is designed to bring the dairyman as much money for his milk as the market can stand and the whole program might be kicked out of the window if a successful strike were conducted by the majority of producers who could tie up the market. And he will stand in grave danger of losing his advantageous position which now commands the best milk market in the country for the New York Milk Shed.

Dairymen are free American citizens and as such have a right to strike, or not to strike, according to their own decisions. But if they decide to strike they should remember that other dairymen have just as much right to make personal decisions as they. It should be determined by all the citizens of every milk producing community that every dairyman who wants to sell his milk shall not be obstructed on his way to market. Overturning the trucks of law-abiding farmers and dumping their milk in the road must not be tolerated.

In the final summary of this situation farmers of an open mind should remember that a lot of misinformation is put out regarding this proposed strike. Union organizers may and have confronted a meeting of farmers, calling for a strike vote after most of the dairymen have left—then report a county has voted to strike when some 25 men have registered that choice out of a dairy population of 3,000. Dairymen should also remember Archie Wright and his henchmen are closely tied to the C. I. O. and labor union funds were used to stir up the last strike.

Farmers are more capitalists than laborers, and the real interests of dairymen will never be served by affiliation with a group of radical labor leaders and Communists who openly brag of their hold on milk producers. Dairymen, do not be misled by the sugary promises of wolves parading in sheeps' clothing!

Village Board Members Approve Paving Bill for Addison Streets

Solons pay $1,676 for paving of many streets in community — Discuss traffic problems as affecting school children — Parents asked to keep children from skating on new bridge and warn youngsters about traffic.

Paving work on upper Steuben, Colwell and Goodhue streets cost the village $1676.65 according to bills approved at the October meeting of the Village Board Monday. The bill is from the A. L. Blades & Son Co., and is for labor, rental of equipment, stones, primer, cutback and topping. Village officials now feel that every street in the village is in good condition.

Most of the meeting was devoted to a discussion of traffic problems created by the construction of the temporary bridge over the Canisteo and its relation to children. Members of the board realize the necessity for police protection at the dangerous intersections of Main, Valerio, Tuscarora and Steuben street and also at the dangerous and narrow curve at Wombough and Colwell streets where the temporary bridge entrance and exit for the south side is located. They do not feel that the village should bear all the expense of providing an additional officer as this is partially a school problem.

Traffic Danger

The danger is created by the number of children who have to cross the intersection. Forrest Herrington will be retained as police officer at Wombough and Colwell for this week until some solution of the problem is worked out with school authorities. The village police fund cannot stand the payment of $10 per week for five weeks, according to the village authorities.

Police Chief Leavenworth and Officer Owen Cass appeared before the Board to ask for $2 per day for the man on traffic duty at the southern bridge outlet on Wombough street. The rate heretofore has been $1 per day received by Officer Herrington. The officer is on duty from 8 to 9 in the morning, 11 to 1 at noon and 3 to 4 in the afternoon.

Chief Leavenworth also stated that the State Engineers desire the cooperation of children and parents in stopping roller skating on the bridge of cleats will be nailed there.

A lock on the jail will be repaired and oiled and continued in use without the purchase of a new lock Meeting times for future sessions was set at 7:30 instead of 8 o'clock.

Bills Audite

Bills audited and ordered paid were: L. E. Handy, two snow shovels and galvanized pail, $1.98; Addison Home Telephone Company, $10.95; Leonard Hoaglin, $6.58 for tile, cement and sand; New York State Electric and Gas Company, $293.67; Mrs. Mary Hibbard, cleaning jail four times, $2; Harold Hibbard, painting sign, $2.50; Chatfield Garage, battery for truck, $8.35; Steuben Water Works hydrant rental, $433.75; Kendall Service Station, gasoline, $1.48 and Doddato Shell Station, gasoline, 98c.

Those present were Mayor Angelo Sisto, trustees Hubert Orr, Norman Phelps, William Cooper and Albert Root.

"Milk Producers Against Strike" Says Baldwin

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 9—Dairymen throughout the New York marketing area are practically unanimous against a milk strike despite efforts of paid agitators to stir up trouble in some scattered sections of the state, according to Charles H. Baldwin, executive secretary of the Metropolitan Cooperative Milk Producers Bargaining Agency.

At the same time President Ralph C. Norton, of the Agency, notified all of the 41,000 producer members that they would be acting perfectly within their legal rights in "protecting themselves by every reasonable means" in case any person or persons attempted to prevent them from delivering their milk.

Mr. Norton told the producers to get license numbers of cars carrying "strong arm squads", or those of any persons attempting to interfere with them on the highways. They were also advised to call on city, county and state authorities for protection in case of trouble, adding that he had been given assurance from every quarter of complete official cooperation.

BETTY PERRY ENROLLS E B I

"Miss Elizabeth Perry of Addison is among the class of 32 new students who registered Monday, September 30 at Elmira Business Institute. Miss Perry is enrolled in the Stenographic and Office Training Course."

Steuben Dentist Regains Health Through Hobby

When Dr. Leo S. Dodge of Wayland lost his health he turned his skillful hands to a hobby, and because the woodworking eased his troubled mind he got better.

Dr. Dodge was referee of a basket ball game more than a decade ago. A backfiring blank cartridge caused an injury from which infection resulted.

The change from an active life to one more sedentary inspired him to withdraw each evening to his attic where, with lathe, saws and drills, he fashioned furnishings for his home. From there it was a step to making his own vases from wood of exceptionally fine grain.

Not content to stay in a rut, Dr. Dodge varied vase patterns, shapes and sizes, as well as the wood used. He treats the wood so that his vases hold water as well as if they were made of glass or pottery.

To his avocation Dr. Dodge unhesitatingly gives credit for giving him surcease from troubles. "Without it", he says, "I think I would have gone mad with pain and worry."

Senator Taft Steuben GOP Speaker Tues.

Corning, October 9 — Republicans of Steuben County will hold a county-wide Willkie rally at the Corning State Theatre on Tuesday evening, October 15, when U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio will address what is planned to be the biggest GOP meeting of the campaign. The theatre has a seating capacity of 1,200 and loud-speakers will be arranged outside the theatre to accomodate the over-flow crowd expected to be present. The committee in charge has announced that there will be no reserved seats and everyone is urged to turn out early to be sure of a seat.

Senator Taft who was one of the leading three candidates for the Republican presidential nomination, is much in demand as a speaker during the campaign and the Republicans of Steuben County feel fortunate in getting him for this meeting sponsored jointly by the First Voters Club, the Associated Willkie Clubs and the Republican City Committee.

It was announced today that the dally would have all the trimmings to attract the interest of voters of all parties, including a parade with red fire and bands, noise makers and marching contingents carrying banners with appropriate slogans of the campaign.

Senator Taft will arrive in Corning in time for dinner and will be the guest of County Chairman J. C. Latham and the Republican County Committee at a dinner at the Baron Steuben Hotel. Due to the lack of space it has been deemed necessary to limit this dinner to members of the County Committee.

The speaking program will start at 8 o'clock and will be preceded by a big parade with three or four bands and the line of march will be gaily decorated and lighted with fireworks. The County Committee will march to the theatre with Senator Taft and escort him to the stage, the entire committee to be seated on the stage. Prior to the speaking program it is planned to have a program of entertainment for the enjoyment of the crowd which is expected to assemble at the theatre early. Efforts are being made to have Congressman W. S. Cole present for this meeting and to speak briefly. The speakers will be limited to three or possibly four.

A FREE PRESS IS ESSENTIAL

A people kept in ignorance is a nation enslaved.

The world has learned many lessons since dictatorship strode across the stage destroying, corrupting, hating. It has looked at this horror and seen one inalterable fact—that the disease of totalitarianism first strikes at the Press.

Once the Press loses its voice, the people are blinded to the truth, gagged, silenced. Once the Press is dictated to, the people are put in chains.

Wherever dictatorship has come to power, the first shadow of its coming has been cast upon the pages of the Press. If in America, the Press is ever denied its right to differ, argue, opiniate; if it be deprived of its inalienable heritage to cry out against injustice, to challenge corruption—the Bill of Rights would be dead, the Declaration of Independence a memory, the Constitution a myth—and America a land of goose-steps!

Consider the Press abroad—silenced, inert, decadent; told what to write, when to write, how to write! Consider the people abroad—crushed, blinded, gagged; told what to do, when to do it, how to do it!

Totalitarianism annihilates the liberties of all by first crushing the Press. With a free Press dead, the people are easier victims . . . this is the picture of Europe!

In America the Press is free — product and guardian of Democracy.

Let's keep it free!

CHEROKEES OF TODAY

It is more than 400 years now since the first white man was glimpsed by the Cherokee Indians when DeSoto and his gold-seeking Spaniards came north to the Carolinas.

But today, thousands of whites annually visit the fall fair and festival of the Eastern Cherokees held on their Reservation on the southern edge of the Great Smokies National Park.

Instead of the glitter and gleam of metal, they are dazzled by the gold of the Smokey Mountains' sunsets, and the sparkle of the silvery Oconoluftee River which flows swiftly through the Cherokee Reservation.

Thirty-five years ago Lloyd Owl built the swinging bridge carrying the footpaths over the Oconoluftee. Wherever the visitor wanders now on the Reservation he will likely encounter some member of the Owl family. Best known perhaps are Samson Owl, ex-Chief and Councilman, and George Owl the guide who is steeped in the woodcraft of his copper-hued ancestors. Some soft-eyed feminine Owl will doubtless with pride show the visitor her homemade pottery and hand-woven splint or reed baskets.

At the fair held in early October, only Cherokees and other Indians living on or near the Qualla Reservation may enter exhibits. Premiums are offered for the best display of hay, small grains, apples, grapes, pears, nuts, Irish and sweet potatoes, squash, onions, cattle and poultry.

The boys and girls bring their best vegetables, poultry, farm and shop products, and the women take pride in their jars of jams, jellies, fruits and vegetables, their pressure canned meats, their breads and pastries, pickles, pottery and baskets.

In contrast to the indoor exhibits are the games and ceremonials. Although the government has instituted a comprehensive system of education and modern living, ancient ceremonies and sports are still preserved as tribal customs. The Cherokees still play their game of ball, one of the world's most strenuous sports. Many of the present generation are expert in archery and in the use of the flow gun. Their dances, for the most part, are mere walk-arounds or composed of minute-like steps.

When in 1838 the Cherokees were removed to Oklahoma despite their vigorous protests, hundreds of them escaped to the fastnesses of the nearby sheltering Great Smoky Mountains and could not be found by the federal authorities. The present population of Qualla Reservation is made up largely of the descendants of those who hid themselves in the mountains. In general they are industrious, intelligent and civic-minded folk and as good citizens as their white neighbors.

WHAT BECOMES OF THEM?

So many agencies and individuals are at work on, and disclosing information, the activity that is definitely un-American, one is constrained to wonder just what happens. The Dies Committee unfolds activity after activity; Walter Winchell has been hammering away for weeks, yes months; Lowell Thomas is openly commenting upon subversive activities, and many of the other commentators repeatedly bring out new facts to confirm their charges.

GOOD MAN'S GLORY

THE testimony of a good conscience is the glory of a good man; have a good conscience and thou shalt ever have gladness. A good conscience may bear right many things and rejoices among adversities.

—Thomas A. Kempis.

What is the United States doing about it? What are Senators and Congressmen doing to spike such activities? Strangulation methods are constantly being applied to the G-Men. What good is all the debate over preparedness unless we get to the root of an evil that will destroy every dollar spent, and render this country as helpless as France?

It is time that Uncle Sam got busy. It is time that every American got busy. It is time that every man or woman who dislikes our way should be herded into boats and sent home.

THE TAX HEADACHE

Out of every dollar spent for food, clothing and other necessities, 20 to 25 cents go for taxes to support local, state and national governments.

Two hours out of every employe's average workday goes to pay the cost of government.

The farmer who paid $100 in property taxes in 1915 now pays $225 on the same property.

Public debt in New York—local, state and federal—now totals 30 per cent of the total assessed value of all property in the state.

A loaf of bread now includes in its cost 53 different taxes paid by farmer, miller, baker and grocer. All ultimately paid by the consumer.

New York State's budget exceeds its gross farm income including the federal government contributions.

"Emergency" taxes in New York almost equal all other normal tax income.

The 457,368 persons on the payrolls of the state and its political subdivisions would constitute the third largest city in the state—only New York City and Buffalo would be larger.

To pay the cost of New York State government for one year would take the life earnings of 10,000 persons working continuously for 43 years at 48c per hour.

A Regents inquiry in New York showed that $23,000,000 could have been saved on the state budget by increasing class sizes in upstate schools to an average of 30 pupils each. Instead 3,931 teachers were added to the payrolls at an additional cost of $9,900,000.

If per pupil cost in education in New York State were pared to a level of Michigan, it would mean a saving of $117,000,000 for the taxpayers. Coming nearer home, if per pupil costs were on a par with those of Pennsylvania, the yearly budget could be reduced by $119,000,000.

State aid to local governments in New York has increased 400 per cent since 1926, and now amounts to almost $200,000,000, a year. This is $130,000,000 more than fifteen years ago. Yet property taxes collected by the same local governments have skyrocketed $300,000,000 in the same time.

New York State's budget with its 40,000 employees plucks more than $1,000,000 a day from the pockets of its citizens.

ARE WE SO GULLIBLE?

When Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Lehman slyly passed out the word that Hitler would be greatly pleased by the Defeat of the President in November they were guilty of two things. First making out the American voters to be the most gullible ignoramuses on the face of the earth, and second, they were almost as surely turning the actual facts squarely around.

Hitler has become the personification of dislike outside the world of dictators, which the Kaiser enjoyed from 1914 to 1918. To say Hitler would be pleased with a Willkie victory is the same as saying Hitler would be helped by a Willkie victory. Any voter with common intelligence knows this false issue was raised for the low purpose of attempting to transfer some of the hatred for Hitler into hatred of Willkie. It was one of the lowest of political tricks unworthy of either the Governor of a great state or the leader of this country. It is probably resented more deeply than any act or utterance which has been made or can be made in this campaign.

Facts bear out the exact untruth of this allegation. Hitler is pleased by the fact this country is both unprepared with machines of war and unprepared industrially to make those machines. It is unprepared for great industrial effort because the New Deal coterie which has held the stage in Washington for seven and one-half years has lived on the theory that every handicap should be thrown in the way of industry. Hitler is doubtless aware of the fact Roosevelt's administration has hindered the industrial expansion of this country and the further fact that Willkie is a man of business leadership, capable of setting the machines of America going again at high speed.

If anyone can reach across the Atlantic and say what is in the mind of the ruthless Nazi leader, they would be making a wide guess indeed to credit him with wanting a change in the present administration. Hitler has a smart intelligence service working here. He knows that the defense program was stalled long after Congress appropriated billions for it. Cruel and unscrupulous Hitler may be, yet he is no fool, as recent political events have proved. To suggest Hitler would be pleased to have a competent executive replace Mr. Roosevelt at this time is insult to the intelligence of the bulk of American voters.

GOOD ADVICE!

The Rambler

Dr. Dafoe who brought the famous Dionne Quintuplets into the world spoke to a group of newswriters and their wives and friends last Friday night and provided one of the most humorous talks it has been my pleasure to hear. He is unspoiled by the international fame which has come to him. He told of the years of preparation for this event in bringing hundreds of other babies into the world and the hardships of the northern winters. Dr. Dafoe is short, has white bushy hair which cannot be tamed by brush or comb, speaks rapidly but with soft and pleasant voice and is one of the easiest persons in the world to meet.

Get out into the country these days. Get off the beaten paths and look at the trees and the flowers. See the brilliant coloring of the maples and sumacs. Fall is in the air and nature has again spread her paint brush to change the trees from their summer dresses to their fall and winter robes. And the transition is beautiful.

Politics and football are the chief topics of conversation of men at the present time. Some are holding requiems over the past baseball season and others are looking forward to hunting and fishing. But politics is always with us. And it is up to all to take an interest on one side or the other against a lethargy which may make democracy a thing in name only. A Democracy is people, you and I. And if we want to retain it, we must do something about it and the best thing we can do is to get out and vote.

"Put the out" in Scouting has long been a goal of the Boy Scout leaders, state and national. With all the extra curricular activities in schools, activities in churches, growth of the 4-H and other units, many of the original objects and purposes of Scouting have been absorbed. But the out-of-doors remains for the Scouts. Scoutmaster Bernard Wilson realizes this and hence his overnight hike plans. A hike was held last week-end.

When I first came to Addison four of the five churches in the community had alive and alert and active men's clubs or classes. Attendance was from 12 to 30 depending upon the church. Now, there is not an active men's club in any any church. What has happened? Is it the leaders, the fact that men are falling away from their churches or what? The answer seems to be in the church programs I guess.

The "sidewalk superintendent's club" of Addison has been having a busy time with all this construction going on in the community. And they have been taking advantage of it by viewing the operations daily, and the "sidewalk superintendents" also have a night shift.

Giving credit where credit is due, the Rambler last week credited the bridge contracting company with being cooperative to the extent of putting a third safety rail on the temporary bridge fence. It was not the contracting company but the state highway department men who put the rail there, and only then upon local insistence.

Attention is again called to children on the north side of the river using the west side of Wall street to the north side of Front street and thence crossing Wall street to the east side of the street. In this way all through heavy traffic will be avoided. Parents are asked to cooperate by impressing children with the need for safety.

Many years ago I read somewhere "Beware the idle moment, use it well". This was recalled to me recently and is often by the number of complaints received on many things from people who are not too busy themselves and have time to find fault and make unwanted suggestions. Good suggestions, constructive and of material aid to the community or some group and well thought out are always welcomed by the Rambler.

That's all.

Wadsworth addresses Livingston Historical Society

Mt. Morris—The purchase of 75 pounds of beef at six cents a pound, the driving of 49 head of cattle from Geneseo overland to Baltimore, running an account at a local postoffice for a year that amounted to $.01, charge of $29 made by a physician for 66 calls to one family and renting a hack and span for $1.25, were some of the things mentioned by Representative James W. Wadsworth when he discussed conditions that existed in the Genesee Valley a century and more ago before the 64th annual meeting of the Livingston County Historical Society at the museum building in Geneseo, Saturday, the 150th anniversary of the first arrival of a settler to Geneseo.

The representative told important events in the valley, starting back in 1779 when General Washington sent Gen. Sullivan and 5,000 colonial troops to this region to wipe out the Senecas, keepers of the western door of the region controlled by the Five Nations.

The Senecas had been giving help to the British, making it difficult for recruits to join the army of Washington because of outrages on their families by the Red Men. Accordingly Gen. Sullivan and his men marched from Pennsylvania to the Genesee Valley and at Little Beard's Town, near Cuylerville, destroyed huge stores of corn and other commodities and broke up the settlement.

Mary Jemison, famous White Woman of the Genesee, was present when the Indians finally made peace with Gen. Sullivan and Representative Wadsworth said he had been informed that squaws had a leading part in forcing the chiefs to sign the Treaty of the Big Tree.

Representative Wadsworth also told of trying out one of the early practices last winter with success. When his tenant on the Streeter farm, near Canawaugus, died he came back from Washington for the funeral. Deep snow blocked highways and he was forced to go across fields to reach the farm home. All of the modern means of clearing highways were brought into use without success and Mr. Wadsworth suggested a plan that had been common among residents of the valley in the horse and buggy days.

Hay was placed on the back of the bobsled as a teaser for the 75 head of steers on the Streeter farm and the animals followed the bait so well that it was but a short time before the snow had been packed down sufficiently to permit the operation of vehicles.

At the turn of the century about 30 million pounds of lobster were caught annually off the New England states, but now the yearly catch is down to about 11 million pounds, valued at $2,500,000.

Seventy counties in western New York produce about 20,000 acres of tomatoes, valued at from a million to a million-and-a-half dollars.

Shared Blessings

God is not interested in providing fatness for us above that of other people. Our use of the resources with which we have been blessed will determine whether God will be with us . . . If we use the strength gained from our abundance to live righteously and to be of service to those who are less fortunate, well and good; but if the reverse is the case, America will go the way of other selfish nations of the past . . . It should be remembered that America's greatest strength and its greatest contributions to mankind have come from its days of adversity, not its days of prosperity . . . As never before in its history, America needs a return to personal, national and international righteousness. Our whole 130,000,000 people can sing "God Bless America" until they are hoarse, but God will only bless as we are willing to share our blessings with others.

—Rev. Dr. Hillyer Straton, First Baptist Church, Detroit, Mich.

AND THIS IS AMERICA —

The registering of draft eligibles in New York City has necessitated securing the services of 1,000 interpreters versed in 33 alien languages to be on duty October 16 at the places of registration. The selective service administration also is arranging for explanation of the draft in 52 foreign language publications, and over 10 radio stations which broadcast daily in alien tongues.

TAX FAX
Of New York State

New York State government costs are higher than the total wages paid in eight of the state's principal manufacturing industries each year. They include the women's and children's apparel, printing and publishing, men's and boys' clothes, bread and bakery products, electrical machinery and apparatus, knit goods, liquors and malts, and paper industries with annual payrolls totaling $393,620,000.

State aid to local governments in New York has quadrupled since 1926 until today it amounts to almost $200,000,000 a year.

Taxpayers in New York State accounted for more than 19 per cent of the total Federal collection of $5,339,583,925 in Federal corporation, individual, excess profits, employment, and other taxes last year.

Taxes for New York State and local governments in 1937 exceeded the total valuation of all farm land and buildings in the Empire State, according to the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Inc. of New York State.

Although state aid to local governments has increased $130,000,000 since 1925, property taxes which are the principal sources of revenues for those same local governments, have skyrocketed nearly $300,000,000.

New York State's budget with its army of 40,000 employes plucks more than $1,000,000 a day from the pockets of its citizens.

California has the largest number of motor vehicles in proportion to population, there being only 2.7 persons per passenger car owned, while Arkansas comes at the end of the list with 11.3 persons per car.

In 1937 the average annual earnings of motor vehicle factory workers was $1,531. This contrasts with $1,141 for the workers in all factories.

"No", he answered sarcastically. You were flying too low".

How Much Blood?

There has been no official round-up of figures to show just how much blood has been lost in the first year of the Second World War. However, some conservative estimates have been made, such as the tabulation appearing below. The figures, as reported in a special Associated Press article, apply only to soldier casualties, not to non-combatant civilian losses:

Country	Killed	Wounded	Country	Killed	Wounded
France	350,000	1,000,000	Belgium	35,000	70,000
Poland	200,000	800,000	Holland	30,000	140,000
Russia	100,000	375,000	Finland	26,000	60,000
Germany	70,000	250,000	Norway	5,000	15,000
Britain	40,000	150,000	Italy	1,000	4,000

TOTAL for All Belligerents .... 857,000 Killed and 2,864,000 Wounded

NOTE: If the Second World War should continue for three more years at this casualty rate, the soldier losses would be considerably less than the total recorded for the First World War, in which some 9,000,000 fighting men were killed and some 16,000,000 wounded. These figures, of course, have nothing to do with non-combatant civilian populations. Unquestionably, many thousands of non-combatants have been killed and wounded in the present war, just as millions of them have been made wandering refugees, but there are apparently as yet no sound figures on this point.

Helpful Hints On Beauty

"Beauty is only skin deep." Most every day someone resorts to this old adage, and usually someone replies by saying that "many people need to be skinned." Seriously enough every woman possesses beauty, and it is only necessary to bring out this attractiveness with proper treatment.

Present day opportunities for women make excuses unbearable. With beauty shops galore, and competent operators, plus the countless cosmetics, every woman can be thrilling. Complexions, hair, weight and other charms need only the correct encouragement.

Speaking of weight, it seems as though avoirdupois doesn't carry any weight with the judiciary--a man can't divorce his wife simply because she weighs 100 pounds or so above the legal limit.

At least, that was the decision handed down recently in a case in which the plaintiff testified that his wife's weight had increased from 140 pounds to 296 in their 14 years of marriage. That's an average of only eight pounds a year—but the husband thought it added up to 116 pounds too much.

The court noted, however, that the husband had the reputation of being an excellent amateur cook and took the view that he might have been guilty of culinary collusion—the superabundance of good cookery he provided was certainly no help to his wife in keeping her weight down! And the divorce was denied.

Paris Fashion Queen All For U. S. Methods

No less an authority than Mme Elsa Schiaparelli, fashion designer to some of the world's wealthiest women, has high praise for American production methods which make good and stylish clothes available to the average woman.

In a recent interview, the slender, dark-eyed fashionist, one of the rulers of the Paris costume salons during their heyday, was vociferous in her amazement at "the immeasurable possibilities those with restricted budgets have to buy good, conservative clothing."

Mme. Schiaparelli, herself was dressed in a cigarette-slim tailleur of dark blue wool, its lapels faced in burgundy, worn with a dusk blue polka dot blouse and a tiny, pleated brim navy hat. The famed "Schiap touch" was evident in the amazing mother-of-pearl and gold buttons which marched down the front of her longer jacket. Prominent on the lapel was the badge of the Friends of France—a red, white and blue heart in a gold cage.

Mme. Schiaparelli declined to comment on the war—"I know nothing about it, I hear nothing from my friends", she explained. Her salon at 21 Place Vendome is being run by friends, and a collection was shown last month, she stated, "but I do not even know what was in it. I get no news."

Lake Lamoka Keeps Victim of Drowning

Frederick Beverly, Jr., whose disappearance last Thursday is still a mystery, is believed to have drowned in Lake Lamoka, although the efforts of a great number of volunteer searchers have failed to find his body.

A resident of the east shore of the lake, he has been missing since he set out in a row boat Thursday evening. His hat, boat, and a broken oar have been found but the efforts of Schuyler County sheriff's department, Civilian Conservation Corps members, and other volunteers in dragging the lake have so far come to naught. Sheriff Dana T. Burt of Watkins Glen pointed out that the finding of the boat and broken oar indicated he likely fell from boat when the oar broke.

Miss Beatrice I. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Smith, South street, became the bride of Ralph H. Wade, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wade, Cleveland street in a beautiful wedding ceremony performed last Thursday night, October 3, 1940.

The Rev. Mondula C. Johns of the Addison Baptist Church united the couple in the wedding ceremony performed in the home of the bride's brother, Harold Smith, South street.

The living room of the Smith home was tastefully decorated for the occasion. Candlebra placed on a mantle provided the subdued light before which the young couple plighted their troth as the Rev. Johns intoned the words of the marriage ceremony. Poms and palms formed the background for the lighting.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Only members of the immediate families attended the ceremony. Mrs. Eva Wade Burlingame, sister of the groom was matron-of-honor and Harold B. Smith brother of the bride was best man.

The bride was charmingly attired in a soldier blue gown of blue silk crepe that was street length. She wore black accessories and a shoulder corsage of white rosebuds.

Her attendant was gowned in navy blue crepe of street length with a shoulder corsage of white rosebuds. Mrs. George Smith, mother of the bride wore dusky pink crepe and the groom's mother was attired in black crepe. Each wore yellow rosebud corsages.

Mrs. Harold Smith was hostess to the wedding party at an informal reception for the members of the wedding party and immediate friends.

The table centerpiece was a four layer tiered wedding cake with minature bride and groom on top. Shower bouquets of white rosebuds were individual table decorations for the placecards.

Those present at the table were the Rev. M. C. Johns, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wade, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Wade Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Burlingame, Miss Jane Dobbin of Bath, Mr. and Mrs. Judson Bridgman Goodhue Hill and William Wade. Also John, Sharon and Jerome Smith, children of the host and hostess. Mrs. Smith was assisted by Mrs. Leo Sharpe.

Several friends of the bride and groom gathered to wish them "happy days" as they embarked on their honeymoon trip to the western part of the state and Canada. They spent the first night in their newly furnished apartment at 202 East Washington street, Bath, leaving for Buffalo Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Wade was graduated from Addison High School in the class of 1936 and returned for a year of post graduate work. She then entered Bath Memorial Hospital Training Class for Nurses from which she was graduated last February. Since that time she has been a member of the staff in the Bath Hospital where she will coninue nursing.

Mr. Wade expects to commute from Bath for the time being.

Both young people are highly regarded in the community and their many friends wish them "long years of happiness and good health".

Borden Teacher Dropped Dead at School Friday

Death struck with suddenness to Mrs. Mildred Holt Herrington, Borden school teacher last Friday afternoon. She had just dismissed her classes for the day when she was seen to fall to the ground by her students. Students tried to administer first aid but to no avail. Her brother-in-law, Clayton Herrington, who drives the Borden-Addison school bus, was working in a nearby field. He was called but could do nothing to bring life to the already dead school teacher.

Dr. Williams, Elkland physician, was called and pronounced death due to a heart ailment. The body was taken to the home of her father, William J. Holt, who lives near the school.

Mrs. Herrington, 38, had an operation for goitre several weeks ago from which she never fully recovered. She was forced to relinquish studies at Mansfield State Teachers College summer school owing to illness. And at the opening of the present school sessions she was unable to take over full duties, being assisted by her sister, Mrs. Harriet Holt Hibbard as substitute. Mrs. Herrington only resumed full time teaching two weeks ago.

She was a former resident of Canisteo township. Her early education was received in Addison High School from which she graduated in 1920 and in the Addison Teachers' Training Class one year later. Mrs. S. D. Lanning Died at 85 Years

Mrs. Sarah Dodge Lanning, 85, widow of the late Millard Lanning, died Sunday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Custer, 47 Steuben street, Addison, where she has made her home for the past two years. Death was due to the complications brought about by the advancing years, for she has been in ill health for several years.

Mrs. Lanning was born Sarah Adele Dodge in Homer, New York on December 13, 1855. Her parents were the late Mary Merrill and Truman Dodge. While she was a young girl, the family came to Addison where they lived several years while she received her early schooling. She was graduated from the old Addison Academy.

It was in Addison that she met and married Millard Lanning and shortly after the newlyweds moved to Corning where Mr. Lanning was employed by Undertaker Darrin for many years. One child George was born to them in Corning. He died at the age of 10. Mr. Lanning was killed in a railroad accident in 1889.

Mrs. Lanning worked in the Corning Glass Works for several years and upon retirement from employment there engaged in dressmaking She continued in this for many years until she became an invalid.

Mrs. Lanning was very well read, friendly and industrious throughout her entire life. She leaves many friends in Corning, Addison and vicinity to mourn her passing. She was a member of the First Methodist Church in Corning for many years until her illness.

She leaves three nieces, Mrs. William Jinney of Waverly, Mrs. Nellie Geiss and Mrs. Mary Bloom of Troy, Pa., and a nephew Frank Bebout of Wilmington, Deleware and a step-niece, Mrs. F. W. Livingston of Ithaca and a step-nephew, Ray Thornton of Elmira.

"Unthinking People" Ad Club Topic

"I have nothing that makes me superior to my fellow man. I try to speak to everyone. But how can I explain to the public what we are trying to do. I call your attention to part of a letter appearing in this week's Advertiser. It is one of the few times a person has praised us, for we are always blamed. How can we explain to those who cannot read and write? Yet, they control the country.

"We have a population of 131,409,481 and one-third of them are foreign born or children of foreign born or 38,000,000 are of foreign white stock. The men who made the Constitution fought for it. They did not know that 38,000,000 would come to our shores to be controlled by astute politicians.

"Of those 38,000,000, 17 per cent are on relief, three per cent are receiving old age pensions and 11 per cent are in the poor, low wage class. Fifty-five per cent of the people of the country are receiving from $1,100 to $2,500 and 14 per cent or in the wealthy class with incomes above $2,500. The middle class have 90 per cent of 50 million insurance policies for protection in old age or savings.

"I see the earnings of the middle class being taken from them. During the war the unthinking earned three times what they do now and 99 per cent saved not one cent. The middle class conserved. And now, insurance is only worth 50 cents on the dollar and if the present political system continues four more years will be worth only 25 cents.

Banks Not Barter

"We can bartar as of old. But the services of a bank in a community are needed. Of the $400,000 in bonds we have $291,000 invested in government securities yielding from 0 to one and three-fourth per cent. We participate in all community projects and are staunch supporters of the F. F. A., 4-H Club, Grange and other kindred organizations. We feel we are a part of this community and an integral part of it. Many services performed by the bank cost you nothing and a bank is needed in a community".

Advocates 4-H

Judge Edwin C. Smith spoke for 4-H Club support. His remarks in brief were: "What can the Advertising Club do for Addison? That pre-supposes that we can do something. We are an agricultural town. We do not rely on manufacturing. You cannot live without the farmer and unless he gets money.

"This is the Tuscarora watershed. It produces more pasture grasses per acre than any place in the state. There are 5,000 cows feeding on these hills. That business is being improved by Dairy Herd Improvement Associations. The cow, her feed and other factors are all measured so that the farmer knows the production and costs on every cow in his herd.

"What matters here is there are 5,000 cows whose milk comes to Addison plants. The average cow produces 200 pounds of butterfat per year. The American average is 156 pounds. With a 200 pound average the farmer receives $28 for the use of the cow, 204 pounds of butterfat, $47; 251 pounds of butterfat, $67; 300 pounds of butterfat $88; 349 pounds of butterfat $112 and 397 pounds $136. If all dairymen produce 397 pounds per cow it means that in this area alone the income will go from $235,0000 annually to $680,000.

"That would mean you would sell three times more than you do as merchants for the producers would have three times the amount to spend where they live.

"The solution is to impress boys in the impressive years. Teach them the good points about cows, potatoes, corn and other farm work. We have trained boys and girls in arithmetic, languages, sciences and trained them for the city. Now let us train them for the farms to stay at home. No boy can love a horse or cow unless he has lived with them.

"I believe the solution is for this club to sponsor a 4-H Club, help the boys get a heifer and help them watch it grow so he can become a big producer and will live in this valley.

"We cannot teach older people new methods as easily as we can the younger folks. We can help the young minds".

Mr. Brown stated that the Steuben Bankers donated $100 to provide a banquet for leaders in the county. Mr. Crane moved that Mr. Smith draw plans for the club to sponsor such a unit in Addison. The plans will be submitted at a future meeting of the club.

Knights Win Three Football Games—Scored on Only Once

Three games in the winning column in one week is the record for the Addison Knights touch football team. Last Wednesday the Knights defeated Andover High 26 to 0 and Friday Knoxville defeated here 14 to 7 i na surprise game and Tuesday Jasper lost here 13 to 2.

In the first game the locals scored in every quarter in the game with Andy Dominick passing them through the air over long distances to Harold Hargrave for four straight passes. Marvin Ricker place kicked the goal for two extra points.

Knoxville Scores

The Knoxville team scored a goal on a long pass in the opening quarter of their game here and scored against Addison, the first time the local goal line has been crossed in over two years and the first time the goal line on the home field of the Knights has been crossed by opposition in four years of varsity playing. Kelc has the honor of receiving the pass in the end zone to put the Knoxville team out ahead in the opening frame.

Addison came back in the second period when Dominick threw a short pass on a sleeper play to Matt Whitmore who stepped two feet over the line while the opposition was chasing Gladstone. Dominick and Hargrave again went into action in the third quarter and scored a touchdown with Ricker kicking the goal and putting the Knights out in front 14 to 7. Neither team scored in the final stanza. Ingersol, playing his first year of football proved the star of the game on defensive, breaking up passes and line plays with ease.

Jasper Touchback

The thrill in the Jasper game came in the final seconds of the game when Dick Gladstone took the ball on the 50 yard line, zigzagged through the entire Jasper team in some excellent broken field running and went over, only to have the ball called back by the Jasper official However the Knights were ahead 13 to 2 at the time.

The first quarter opened with the teams playing in mid-field in kicking. A pass Dominick to Gladstone went into the end zone but was called back. No scoring was done in that quarter. In the second period the Addison aerial attack began to click and the ball was carried to the 10 yard line where Dominick threw a pass to Kizer, who carried it over for the touchdown.

The visitors, Jasper, scored a touchback when a bad pass to Dominick behind the end zone and a play rather than kick caused a fumble. Jasper recovered the ball for two points. The scoring for that period was ended and in the final quarter the Knights picked up seven points when Dominick passed 40 yards to Hargrave who ran 40 more for the touchdown and Ricker kicked the extra point.

The Knights will play Mansfield here Thursday of this week. A game with Greenwood scheduled for next Tuesday was canceled. Arkport plays here next Friday October 18.

Do We Want Increased Milk Prices?.. YES!

Is a Milk Strike Necessary?..... NO!

● We Farmers in the Metropolitan Bargaining Agency Want the Price-Stability and Security That Can Be Achieved Only Through the Orderly American Way . . .

Discussion Not Destruction is the American Way

● Every farmer in the New York milkshed agrees that current milk prices paid to farmers are too low. Even as long ago as last June, the farmer co-operatives in the Metropolitan Bargaining Agency petitioned the state and federal authorities to hold hearings at which this matter of price could be discussed and adjusted fairly. These hearings will be held the week beginning October 7. There is no need to strike to obtain justice.

But—and this fact is equally important—every farmer in the New York milkshed admits that prices under the current state and federal marketing orders show a higher yearly average than have been received for many years. In short, the price scale obtained by legal methods and orderly discussion has proved in actual practice to be higher, fairer, longer-lasting and of far greater advantage to the farmer than any temporary increases obtained by the violence, intimidation and property destruction of strike methods.

Ask the People Closest to the Problem

● Ask any farm wife, ask any farm child, if the peace, prosperity and security of the past year have not proved the enormous value of the American Way of settling differences and of reaching agreement by means of orderly discussion.

Ask any farm husband if he hasn't been able to go about his business with greater confidence and greater efficiency because he has been freed from the animosities and unneighborliness of strikes . . . freed from the threat of lost markets and dealer coercion . . . and because every other farmer has been his friend and brother, standing shoulder to shoulder with him in his legal and powerful demand for A LIVING PRICE FOR MILK.

Or ask the storekeepers, the bankers, the household equipment and machinery dealers in the towns close to the farm districts. They'll tell you that farmers' milk checks have been larger and more certain . . . that farmers have been buying more of the necessities, more of the comforts and conveniences of life. And that farmers have been paying off old mortgages, old debts . . . and saving more money.

A Strike Would Threaten All Gains

● Do dealers want to pay more money for the milk they buy? Of course they don't! Would dealers profit more if the orders were too weak to function? Of course they would! Ask yourself—why are the strike leaders who are friendly to dealers advocating a strike? Why are they advocating amendments to the orders which would make the surplus control plan inoperative?

By a strike they can menace the security and continuation of the state and federal orders. Or by threatening a strike they hope to force weakening amendments through. These leaders know that if they can stir up enough trouble, the Secretary of Agriculture may exercise his legal right and withdraw the orders entirely. Or if the orders are weakened, the results would be the same. With the orders out, then the milk price situation would fall back into the old free-for-all where the dealers have always won.

Remember, both dealers and strike leaders profit only when they fish in troubled waters. Legal methods always give both sides an even break, and those who would profit by weakening the orders, don't want farmers to have an even break. THEY know that the cost of a strike will fall heaviest on farmers, both now and later. Farmers will suffer the temporary loss of markets during the strike, and will suffer in lower prices and uncertain markets with uncertain payments if the strike leaders have their way.

Should Changes Be Made in the Orders

● The state and federal marketing orders are human creations and as such are not perfect. But neither are they all wrong, as the dealers and strike leaders are trying to make you believe. The farmers' co-operatives in the Bargaining Agency do want to make some important changes in the orders—but we do not want to cut off our own heads to cure a toothache. In other words, the changes we suggest are designed to strengthen the orders in the interest of the farmers. The changes the dealers and strike leaders are proposing are designed to hamstring the orders to the profit of the dealers.

Look at the Record and Judge

● Facts show that the peaceful American Way has brought us the highest milk prices in years. Facts show that we have enjoyed steady markets and guaranteed payments. Facts show that the surplus has been kept away from chiseling dealers. Yes, the Surplus Control Plan does work, and to the farmer's benefit. We can't afford to take chances on nullifying it by the complete changes which the dealers and strike leaders suggest. And facts show that strikes always cost too much. In short, judge the strike issue by the records of the leaders who are for it. And judge the Surplus Control Plan by what it has accomplished for you up to date.

● During the past twelve months under the Surplus Control Plan farmers have averaged $1.949 per hundred for their 3.5% milk. Considering the average test of milk produced (which was 3.7%) the return to the farmers for the past twelve months has been more than $2.00 per hundred. And in addition there have been extra payments for premiums such as low bacteria count, etc. Compare this with the dollar per hundred price for milk before the orders—DO WE WANT TO GO BACK? NO!

The METROPOLITAN COOPERATIVE MILK PRODUCERS BARGAINING AGENCY

● This statement is published by nearly 45,000 out of the 60,000 farmers who ship milk into the Metropolitan market. The purpose of these majority farmers is to invite the support of all who believe in the AMERICAN WAY. ●

Caton Ousts Jasper— Plays Boxmen Sun.

Caton will play Corning Fibre Box baseball nine Sunday in the Steuben County League for the championship of the league. Caton won the right to meet the Boxmen in the playoff by virtue of a one-sided victory over Jasper Sunday. The winners took the game 12 to 2 on the Lawrenceville diamond before one of the best crowds of the playoff series.

The Corningites were idle for the past week as they won their game handily two weeks ago in the preliminaries and were only awaiting the playoff of the Caton-Jasper game, which ended in a tie in the first encounter.

Spear and Clark will probably share mound duty for the Fibre Box nine while Jim Keegan will be doing the hurling for the Caton hillmen. The game will begin at 2:30 o'clock on the Lawrenceville diamond. It is expected one of the largest crowds of the year will see this playoff game.

Classroom study of "Newspapers and their Manufacture" was augmented for students of the Freeman District three school last Thursday by a visit to the plant of the Addison Advertiser-Woodhull Sentinel. They then went to the printing plant where they saw the presses in action and had the various machines and terms explained to them by members of the staff.

Miss Eleanor Toby of Lindley is teacher of the class and those who accompanied her were William Manning, Charles Dignen, John Mead, Lyman Rogers, Richard Taft Cora Jean Scribner, Beverly Watson and Ann and Margaret Finnerty.
